Open Government Initiative makes government info more accessible

Belleville, ON – Daryl Kramp, Member of Parliament for Prince Edward-Hastings, applauds the recent announcement by Treasury Board President, Stockwell Day, that the government has launched the new Open Government Initiative – a one-stop online shop of information and helpful data for Canadians.

The initiative includes three streams :

- Open Data: government data easily accessible by Canadians;
- Open Information: proactively releasing government information and providing online tools for Canadians; and
- Open Dialogue: innovative online tools for two-way engagement between Canadians and the government.

“Our government is committed to fostering more openness and accountability”, said Mr. Kramp. “ I invite all my constituents to visit the Open Government Initiative website.”
